

Litigation and Alternative Dispute Resolution

---

Commercial Litigation

Contacts

Andrew J. Goodman | 212.965.4534 | agoodman@gsblaw.com

Roger L. Hillman | 206.816.1402 | rhillman@gsblaw.com

Robert C. Weaver, Jr. | 503.553.3123 | rweaver@gsblaw.com

Clients choose Garvey Schubert Barer because of our experience across a diverse array of substantive areas and industries, our ability to efficiently staff and manage cases, our extensive real-world trial experience and a proven track record.

We provide commercial litigation services in most key legal areas. These include antitrust issues, bankruptcy, intellectual property, labor and employment, maritime law, real estate, taxation, securities, contracts, civil and administrative claims, white-collar criminal defense, as well as defense of corporate directors and officers, professionals and other fiduciaries. In addition, we serve — and are knowledgeable about — a wide range of industries. Those within which we have successfully defended cases include

- ▶ Communications and media
- ▶ Entertainment, arts and sports
- ▶ Environment and natural resources
- ▶ Financial services
- ▶ Healthcare
- ▶ Information technology
- ▶ Insurance
- ▶ Maritime companies and fisheries
- ▶ Real estate
- ▶ Technology and e-commerce
- ▶ Transportation and logistics

We well understand that litigation can be costly and disruptive. So we look for alternatives, such as a negotiated settlement, arbitration or some other form of alternative dispute resolution. But if litigation is unavoidable, our experienced trial lawyers will tenaciously represent you. In addition to jury and nonjury trials, we handle appeals, administrative proceedings, government agency investigations and transnational disputes.

As a mid-sized firm, we can respond more nimbly and cost-effectively to your needs than bigger firms. Yet our depth and breadth of experience and capacity equals far larger firms, and we are able to successfully litigate large, complex cases across multiple jurisdictions. No matter what type of commercial litigation we are providing, we will always seek the result you define as a success.